

Program : Diploma in Hotel Management and Catering Technology
Course Code: 1471	Course Title: Food and Beverage Service I
Semester : 1	Credits: 4
Course Category: Foundation Course
Periods per week: 4 (L:4 T:0 P:0)	Periods per semester: 60

Course Objectives:

Gain a comprehensive understanding of catering establishments within the travel and tourism industry, including their classification and career opportunities, develop proficiency in the organization and staffing of food and beverage service departments, acquire practical knowledge of various service areas and equipment, demonstrate competence in menu planning and the sequence of courses for different types of meals, and develop skills in planning and preparing both Western and Indian menus, including proper table setting and service techniques.

Course Prerequisites: Nil

Course Outcomes:

On completion of the course, the student will be able to:

CO n	Description	Duration (Hours)	Cognitive Level
CO1	Gain a comprehensive understanding of the role of catering establishments in the travel and tourism industry, including the classification of establishments into commercial (residential and non-residential) and welfare (industrial, institutional, and transport), and recognize the diverse career opportunities available in each sector.	12	Understanding

CO2	Develop proficiency in departmental organization and staffing within food and beverage service departments of hotels, understanding the roles and responsibilities of staff members, including attributes of an effective waiter, and fostering interdepartmental relationships both within the F&B department and with other hotel departments.	12	Understanding
CO3	Acquire practical knowledge of various food and beverage service areas and ancillary departments, such as specialty restaurants, banquets, room service, and pantries, as well as the types and classifications of service equipment, including crockery, tableware, glassware, and linen, and the criteria for their selection and maintenance.	12	Understanding
CO4	Demonstrate competence in menu planning and understanding different types of meals, including breakfast, lunch, dinner, and high tea, as well as the origins of menus, menu planning objectives, terminology, and the sequence of courses in French classical, table d'hôtel, and à la carte menus, both Indian and Continental.	12	Understanding
CO5	Develop skills in planning Western and Indian menus, including covers and accompaniments, and understanding the mise-en-scene and mise-en-place, as well as the proper laying of tables for various meals and menus, including tablecloth folding and serviette arrangement.	12	Understanding

CO – PO Mapping

Course Outcomes	PO1	PO2	PO3	PO4	PO5	PO6	PO7
CO1	3
CO2	3
CO3					3
CO4				3

CO5							2
-----	--	--	--	--	--	--	---

3-Strongly mapped, 2-Moderately mapped, 1-Weakly mapped

Course Outline

Module Outcomes	Description	Duration (Hours)	Cognitive Level
CO1	Gain a comprehensive understanding of the role of catering establishments in the travel and tourism industry, including the classification of establishments into commercial (residential and non-residential) and welfare (industrial, institutional, and transport), and recognize the diverse career opportunities available in each sector.
M1.01	Introduction to Hotel Industry and growth of Hotel industry in India Introduction to F & B Service, Types of F & B operations, Role of catering establishment in the travel and tourism industry, Classification of catering establishments - commercial (residential and non- residential)	3	Understanding
M1.02	Welfare (industrial, institutional and transport) -career opportunities in each.	3	Understanding
M1.03	Departmental organization and staffing: Organization of food and Beverages Service department of a hotel- principal staff of various types of F & B service operations- duties and responsibilities of F & B service staff- attributes of a good waiter. French terms related to F&B Staff members. American terminologies related to F&B service staff members	3	Understanding
M1.04	Relationship (within F & B department and with other departments)	3	Understanding
Contents: Introduction to F & B Service, Departmental Organization and Staffing.

CO2	Develop proficiency in departmental organization and staffing within food and beverage service departments of hotels, understanding the roles and responsibilities of staff members, including attributes of an effective waiter, and fostering interdepartmental relationships both within the F&B department and with other hotel departments.
M2.01	Food and Beverages services areas and ancillary departments - Types of F & B outlets- specialty restaurant - coffee shop - banquets/ functions- room service- cafeteria- grill room - discotheques - night clubs - bar - outdoor catering - garden cafe/pool side - Ancillary departments - pantry- food pickup areas - stores - linen room - plate room - wash up - kitchen stewarding.	6	Understanding
M2.02	Outdoor catering - garden cafe/pool side - Ancillary departments - pantry- food pickup areas - stores - linen room - plate room - wash up - kitchen stewarding.	6	Understanding
Contents : Food and Beverage Service Areas and Outdoor Catering.
CO3	Acquireknowledge F & B Service equipment
M3.01	F & B SERVICE EQUIPMENT Familiarization & Selection factors of: - Cutlery - Crockery - Glassware - Flatware - Hollowware - All other equipment used in F&B Service -French terms related to the above	6	Understanding
M3.02	Care and maintenance of equipment including silver cleaning	3	Understanding
M3.03	Classificationof food and beverage equipment	3	Understanding
Contents: F&B Service Equipment.
CO4	Demonstrate competence in menu planning and understanding different types of meals, including breakfast, lunch, dinner, and high tea, as well as the origins of menus, menu planning objectives, terminology, and the sequence of courses in French classical, table d'hôtel, and à la carte menus, both Indian and Continental.

M4.01	Types of meals and Menu Planning - Types of meals - breakfast - lunch- dinner - supper - brunch- high tea - afternoon tea Planning menus - western and Indian – Covers & Accompaniments - continental and Indian Breakfast menus - English, American, Continental and Indian.	3	Understanding
M4.02	Menu terminology - basic types of menus - general menu planning - table d'hôtel menu (Indian and Continental) - a la carte menu (Indian, Continental and Chinese)	3	Understanding
M4.03	Origin of the menu- menu planning objectives -	3	Understanding
M4.04	Sequence of course, Courses of French classical menu	3	Understanding
Contents : Types of meals, Menu Planning, Laying table for different meals and menus.
CO5	Develop skills in planning Western and Indian menus, including covers and accompaniments, and understanding the mise-enscene and mise-en-place, as well as the proper laying of tables for various meals and menus, including tablecloth folding and serviette arrangement.
M4.01	Mise –en scene and Mise-en place (including arrangement of aide-boards), Laying tables for different meals and menus- laying tablecloth-folding serviettes	12	Applying

Text / Reference

T/R	Book Title/Author
T1	Food and Beverage Service Training Manual- Sudhir Andrews, Tata McGraw Hill
T2	Food and Beverage Service- Lillicrap& Cousins, ELBs
R1	Modern Restaurant Service- John Fuller, Hutchinson

Online Resources

Sl.No	Website Link
1	http://repository.ipb-intl.id/44/1/English%20for%20FB%20Service.pdf