

Program: Diploma in Hotel Management and Catering Technology
Course Code: 2474	Course Title: Front Office Operations I
Semester: 2	Credits: 3
Course Category: Foundation Course
Periods per week: 3 (L:3 T:0 P:0)	Periods per semester: 45

Course Objectives:

- Develop a comprehensive understanding of the hospitality industry, covering its historical evolution, growth, and diverse classifications of hotels based on size, clientele, location, and ownership, alongside alternative accommodation options.
- Gain practical insights into hotel and front office organization, including the layout, major departments, and the roles and responsibilities of key personnel, facilitating effective management and operation of front office functions to ensure guest satisfaction and operational efficiency.

Course Prerequisites: Nil

Course Outcomes:

On completion of the course, the student will be able to:

CO _n	Description	Duration (Hours)	Cognitive Level
CO1	Develop a comprehensive understanding of the hospitality industry, including its historical evolution, growth, and the various classifications of hotels based on size, clientele, location, and ownership, as well as alternative accommodation options.	9	Understanding
CO2	Gain insights into hotel organization, including the major departments, and front office organization, encompassing the sections, layout, and roles and responsibilities of key front office personnel such as the Front Office Manager, Receptionist, Reservation Agent, Cashier, Bell Boy, Telephone Operator, and Night Manager.	9	Understanding

CO3	Acquire knowledge of the guest cycle, covering pre-arrival, arrival, occupancy, and departure stages, along with front office operations related to reservation, including different types of reservations, reservation processing, reports, waiting lists, group reservations, and overbooking.	9	Understanding
CO4	Understand the registration process in the front office, including preregistration and registration procedures, such as guest identification, record-keeping, room and rate assignment, mode of settlement of bills, issuance of room keys, and handling special requests for various guest categories. Participants will learn the necessity and functions of a good control system, including the food and beverage control cycle, cash handling equipment, theft control procedures, and effective recordkeeping practices. Students will gain insights into alcoholic beverages, with a focus on the introduction, definition, classification, and production of different types, including beer (bottled, canned, and draught), ciders, perry, and sake, along with their storage requirements.	18	Understanding

CO – PO Mapping

Course Outcomes	PO1	PO2	PO3	PO4	PO5	PO6	PO7
CO1	3
CO2	3
CO3					3
CO4				3

3-Strongly mapped, 2-Moderately mapped, 1-Weakly mapped

Course Outline

Module Outcomes	Description	Duration (Hours)	Cognitive Level
CO1	Develop a comprehensive understanding of the hospitality industry, including its historical evolution, growth, and the various classifications of hotels based on size, clientele, location, and ownership, as well as alternative accommodation options.
M1.01	History and growth of Hotel industry Definition – Hospitality and Hotels Tourism and its importance.	3	Understanding
M1.02	Brief introduction to hotel core areas with special reference to Front office	2	Understanding
M1.03	Relation between Tourism and Hotel Management	2	Understanding
M1.04	Classification of Hotels based on Size, Clientele, Location, Ownership. Alternative Accommodation. Types of Guest Rooms, Type of Room Rates	2	Understanding
Contents: Introduction to the hospitality industry, Hotel Organization. Front Office Organization.
CO2	Gain insights into hotel organization, including the major departments, and front office organization, encompassing the sections, layout, and roles and responsibilities of key front office personnel such as the Front Office Manager, Receptionist, Reservation Agent, Cashier, Bell Boy, Telephone Operator, and Night Manager
M2.01	Front Office Organization - Sections and Layout of Front Office, Organization Chart Duties and Responsibilities of Front Office Manager, Receptionist, Reservation Agent, Cashier, Bell Boy, Telephone Operator, Night Manager	5	Understanding
M2.02	Duties and Responsibilities of Front Office Manager, Receptionist, Reservation Agent, Cashier, Bell Boy, Telephone Operator, Night Manager.	4	Understanding

Contents : Guest cycle, Occupancy, Departure, Reservation and types of Reservation.
CO3	Acquire knowledge of the guest cycle, covering pre-arrival, arrival, occupancy, and departure stages, along with front office operations related to reservation, including different types of reservations, reservation processing, reports, waiting lists, group reservations, and overbooking.
M3.01	Guest Cycle – Pre-Arrival, Arrival, Occupancy, Departure.	2	Understanding
M3.02	Reservation and Types of Reservations – Guaranteed Reservations and Non-Guaranteed Reservation. Modes and Sources of Reservation Room selling techniques Arrival procedures and departure procedures, During the stay activities occupancy ratio, ADR, Revenue Per Average Room etc	2	Understanding
M3.03	Processing Reservation Request – Receiving Reservation Inquiries, Determining Room Availability, Accepting Or Denying Request, Reservation Confirmation, Amending Reservation, Reservation Cancellation	3	Understanding
M3.04	Reservation Reports, Waiting List, Group Reservation, Over Booking Importance of Reservation for Hotel and Guest Potential Reservation Problems – Errors in Reservation Records, Misunderstanding Due to Industry Jargon, Miscommunication due to Failure of Computerized Reservation System	2	Understanding
Contents : Pre-Registration and Registration, Self Registration.
CO4	Understand the registration process in the front office, including pre-registration and registration procedures, such as guest identification, record-keeping, room and rate assignment, mode of settlement of bills, issuance of room keys, and handling special requests for various guest categories Explore front office responsibilities, including guest services like mail and message handling, key control, guest paging, safe deposit locker management, left luggage handling, wake-up call services, communication protocols within the hotel, and effective guest complaint handling procedures.

M4.01	Pre – Registration and Registration – Form C and Guest Registration Card (GRC)	2	Understanding
M4.02	Registration Procedure - Receiving And Identifying Guest, Registration Records, Room and Rate Assignment, Establishment of the Mode of Settlement of Bills, Issue Room Keys, Fulfilling Special Requests	2	Understanding
M4.03	Registration Procedure for Walk-in Guest, VIPs, Groups, Scanty Baggage and Foreign Nationals Planning and evaluating the Front office operations Forecasting techniques Hubbart formula, Types of discounted rates, corporate ,rack rate etc Budgeting, making front office budget, capital and operation budget for front office	3	Understanding
M4.04	Latest Trends – Self Registration	2	Understanding
M4.05	Guest Services – Mail and Message Handling, Control of Keys, Guest Paging, Safe Deposit Locker, Left Luggage Handling, Wake-up Call	2	Understanding
M4.06	Front Office Communication– Log Book, Information Directory Guest Complaint – Complaint Handling – Follow Up Procedures	2	Understanding
M4.07	Interdepartmental Communication – Housekeeping, Food and Beverage Service, Engineering and Maintenance, Other Revenue Centres Telephone Services Telephone Etiquette, Telephone Manners, Guest Telephone Service, Voice Mail, PBX, PABX, EPBAX	2	Understanding
M4.08	Emergency Procedures Keys and Key Control System Importance of Safety and Security in Hotels Emergency Procedures - Medical Emergency, Fire, Robbery ,Bomb Threat, Employee Safety	3	Understanding

Contents : Guest Service, Interdepartmental Communication, Guest Complaint handling, follow up procedures, Front Office Communication, Inter-Departmental Communication

Text / Reference

T/R	Book Title/Author
T1	Front Office operations by Colin Dix & Chris Baird
T2	Hotel Front Office Management by James Bardi, VNR
R1	Managing F.O. Operations by Kasavana & Brooks

Online Resources

Sl.No	Website Link
1	https://setupmyhotel.com/hotel-staff-training/front-officetraining/key-terms-jargons-used-in-front-office/