

(MODEL QUESTION PAPER)

TED(15)2143
(REVISION 2015)

Reg. No.....

Signature

SECOND SEMESTER DIPLOMA EXAMINATION IN COMMERCIAL PRACTICE

SHORTHAND ENGLISH THEORY – II

Time : 3 Hours

(Maximum marks : 100)

[Instructions: Every rule in Part A and B must be followed by one or two outline as example. Use pencil for writing the outlines.]

PART A

- I (Answer all questions in one or two sentences. Each questions carry 2 marks) (5 x 2 = 10)
1. State the representation of stroke 'L' preceding or following curve and circle
 2. Give the representation of 'In' before str, skr and h
 3. Write the general rule of halving principle
 4. Mention which 'R' is used before the stroke M
 5. Chief justice of Supreme Court

PART B

- II Answer any five of the following questions. Each questions carries 6 marks) (5 X 6 = 30)
1. Explain with examples how upward and downward form of 'SH' is used
 2. Write a letter to your friend apologising for not attending his sisters marriage
 3. Correct the spelling of the given words
(a) presume (d) emfasis
(b) trestworthy (e) enlitenment
(c) disappointment (f) abbreviation
 4. Explain the joining of unequal length strokes
 5. Define diphone. Explain with two examples the diphone in relation to dot vowels
 6. Explain the usage of left semi circle and right semi circle with examples.
 7. Give outline for the following:-
(a) by all means (d) great
(b) last year (e) circumference
(c) impossible (f) citizenship

PART C

(Answer all questions. Each question carries 15 marks)

1. Write a paragraph of about 200 words on any one of the following topic:- (1 x 15 =15)
1. The power of democracy
 2. The role of youth in nation building
 3. Influence of media

2. Summarise the passage in to one third (about 150 words)

15

Mr. President and distinguished delegates, Let me first congratulate you on your election as the President of the 69th session of United Nations General Assembly. It is a truly a great honour to address you for the first time as the Prime Minister of India. I stand here conscious of the hopes and expectations of the people of India. I am also mindful of the expectations of the world from 1.25 billion people. India is a country that constitutes one-sixth of humanity; a nation experiencing economic and social transformation on a scale rarely seen in history. Every nation's world view is shaped by its civilization and philosophical tradition. India's ancient wisdom sees the world as one family. It is this timeless current of thought that gives India an unwavering belief in multilateralism. Today, as I stand here, I am equally aware of the hopes that are pinned on this great assembly. I am struck by the sacred belief that brought us together. An extraordinary vision and a clear recognition of our shared destiny brought us together to build this institution for advancing peace and security, the rights of every human being and economic development for all. From 51 nations then, today 193 sovereign hope. We have achieved much in the past six decades in our mission in ending wars, preventing conflict, maintaining peace, feeding the hungry, striving to save our planet and creating opportunities for children. 69 UN peacekeeping missions since 1948 have made the blue helmet the colour of peace. Today, there is a surge of democracy across the world; including in South Asia; in Afghanistan, we are at a historic moment of democratic transition and affirmation of unity. Afghans are showing that their desire for a peaceful and democratic future will prevail over violence. Nepal has moved from violence to peace and democracy; Bhutan's young democracy is flourishing. Democracy is trying to find a voice in West Asia and North Africa; Tunisia's success makes us believe that it is possible. There is a new stirring for stability, progress and progress in Africa. There is unprecedented spread of prosperity in Asia and beyond, rising on the strength of peace and stability. Latin America, a continent of enormous potential, is coming together in shared pursuit of stability and prosperity, which could make it an important anchor of the world.

India desires a peaceful and stable environment for its development. A nation's destiny is linked to its neighbourhood. That is why my Government has placed the highest priority on advancing friendship and cooperation with her neighbours. This includes Pakistan. I am prepared to engage in a serious bilateral dialogue with Pakistan in a peaceful atmosphere, without the shadow of terrorism, to promote our friendship and cooperation.

3. Write in to short hand

(15)

I am sorry to interfere with the arrangements for the announcement of the concert season, but at the same time I am compelled to say that I think the form proposed is not likely to have the effect of introducing new members to the society. I fear the psychological effect of the wording of the circular which is more like a command or instruction than an invitation. I think it will provoke a feeling of resentment in the minds of those whom you are addressing and at the same time convey a false impression. I am conscious of no selfishness in communicating with you on the matter because it is quite immaterial to me whether the membership is large or small; but, as the instructor and conductor of the choir, I must, in self-defence, warn the committee against a possible misconstruction of their circular. I think you will be able to

4. Write in to long hand

(15)

Handwritten cursive script, likely a practice exercise, filling the page below the instruction. The script is written in a fluid, cursive style, possibly representing a specific dialect or a historical form of English. The text is arranged in approximately 12 lines, with some lines starting with capital letters. The handwriting is somewhat rapid and shows signs of being a practice piece, with some letters appearing slightly blurred or overlapping. The script includes various characters and punctuation marks, such as commas, periods, and exclamation points, interspersed throughout the lines.