It is a well-known fact that qualification in Shorthand makes it easy to secure /employment, either in Government Service or in private concerns, with fairly good prospects. The higher // your qualifications, the greater are your prospects. It is, therefore, not surprising that a large /// number of students appear for the examinations in Shorthand, but, it is unfortunate that it (1) is only a few that are able to come out successful. I shall briefly place / before you some of the main causes for failure and how to get over the // obstacles.

Many consider that when they are able to write down the shorthand outlines without /// any omissions, they have reached the standard, but they fail because in making out the (2) outlines, they commit large number of mistakes. The higher the standard in the language, the / better is the performance. Proficiency in shorthand depends on the proficiency in the language. It // is, therefore, absolutely necessary that, side by side with the progress in Shorthand, one should /// improve his standard in the language. The present day educational system has lowered the standard (3) of English, and consequently, many who have come out successful in the High School and /College Public Examinations, are very poor in English. They should continue to devote themselves regularly // for improving their standard in English, even after they leave their schools and colleges.

Just /// as a precious stone shines best when set in gold, the art of Shorthand is (4) at its best when combined with a high degree of efficiency in the language. The / efficiency in the arts is judged only by the longhand performance. To secure the highest // posts which are reserved for shorthand writers, nothing helps so much as efficiency in the /// language. The Pitman's Shorthand provides same outlines with different meanings also presupposes proficiency in language. (5)

The conversion of (6) firm into a Limited Company will help us to raise the required capital by / issuing the shares to the public.
